Training Overview

This webinar will discuss the underlying issues that surround sexual and intimate partner violence, including societal and cultural oppression, but also focusing on the individual needs underserved and marginalized communities may have when reaching out for services. The presentation will examine why the occurrence of intimate and sexual violence in SC is so high, and some basic ways in which service providers can be more aware of what historical trauma is, and how understanding this trauma can better equip them to advocate for individuals who may have experienced such trauma.
